Caitlin: Thank you for your response. This now is a significant and acceptable reduction in scope, one which we very much appreciate. We will proceed accordingly. Regards, Louis

Louis,

Thanks for your email. I've had a chance to consult with my clients again about narrowing their FOIA request. They are willing to narrow their request to records from the INVEST system from January 1, 2017 to present that are responsive to their original FOIA request for the following countries: Iraq, Afghanistan, Egypt, Mexico, Colombia, Philippines, Cambodia, and Bangladesh.

My clients feel strongly that this is the most they can narrow their request consistent with their reporting goals, and that narrowing the request to these eight countries should significantly cut down on the number of responsive records that the State Department will need to locate and provide.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards,

Caitlin

Caitlin: Thank you for this response. Narrowing the request to only the information that is entered into the INVEST system helps somewhat. But what is still very much needed is narrowing it to a geographical region and time frame. With so many countries involved, we are talking about a huge amount of data that
